

GLUTEBUILDER® PLATE LOADED

Pendulum Squat Pro

GPL0609

Developed in partnership with Glutebuilder and exclusively available from Precor, the Glutebuilder Plate Loaded line is a full range of products dedicated to targeting the glutes, legs and hip muscles. The precision biomechanics create an exact motion path with smooth, constant resistance ensuring effective and efficient workouts. The multiple adjustment points allow exercisers to find the perfect fit and range of motion for each exercise.

The Pendulum Squat Pro is designed to deliver controlled, lower-body strength training with a natural, joint-friendly movement path. A mid-range starting position and low starting weight make the movement accessible, while advanced adjustment options support a wide range of training styles and experience levels.

Product Features

PRECISION BIOMECHANICS

Independent lever arms help reduce momentum and promote a smoother, more controlled squat pattern.

LIGHT STARTING WEIGHT

A starting weight of 38 lb/17 kg supports a broad range of training types and skill levels.

ADJUSTABLE FOOTPLATE

The oversized, slip-resistant footplate adjusts easily to different angles, allowing exercisers to shift emphasis between quad and glute-dominant training.

PERSONALIZED RANGE OF MOTION

An adjustable depth stopper allows users to define their working range based on mobility or training goals. The lever-based racking system provides a secure rack and unrack position at the start and finish of each set.

EXERCISE PROGRESSION

Connection points for resistance bands offer exercisers the ability to add progressive resistance to the movement.
